

EX ALDERMAN NEWSLETTER 297 AND CHESTERFIELD 242

October 2, 2017

CHAIRWOMAN OF THE PARKS COMMISSION DOESN'T KNOW ABOUT MAJOR STORM WATER PROJECT IN PARK: Ald. Lynn Wright voted for it and then months later at the September Parks and Trials meeting asked “what are they doing on the Mason Ridge Road side of the park?”

What they were doing was a major stormwater project that Wright had voted for sometime ago. The project is to remove storm water from Mason Ridge Road and direct it into the Park and eventually to the large pond. Currently the storm water is flooding homes on Mason Woods Drive.

NO HURRY TO REPAIR WALL AT PRESERVATION PARK: There is a support wall at the back the bathrooms at Preservation Park. It is crumbling. Perhaps that condition got started when the city failed to removed vegetation going out of the wall. At the Parks Commission meeting Parks Director Anne Nixon stated the wall repair was on a list with the city's contractor and there was no rush.

Preservation Park is a mess. CBC High School is under contract to maintain the tennis courts which they have first right of refusal for use. They have basically stopped doing this years ago. They have had money problems and direct funds into their football field.

The west entrance remains closed eliminating access to parking spaces, trails and a picnic pavillion. The reason for the closure is the city could not stop vandalism, underage drinking and drug use at the secluded west area.

Grossly unsafe steps on the west side of the park that the city has ignored for over 10 years. If you post a Caution Hazard sign on the steps you need to fix them.

Once again, if you have to rope off a dangerous section in the park, you need to repair it without delay. Apparently that is not the Town and Country way.

SALE OF PARK: The City has been talking about selling Preservation Park for sometime. It was purchased and built when the more liberal Skip Mange was mayor in attempt to stop more office buildings from going up. However located on the Northeast corner of the City map the draw for the park has not been as big as some might expect. The driveway and parking areas plus the baseball field and track at the rear of the park belong to CBC.

Lynn Wright said that CBC had the rights of first refusal to buy the park. (They cannot afford to purchase the land.) She said their were also contract issues. It is interesting that the City's law firm Curtis, Heinz, Garrett and O'Keefe can have their employees reduce hundreds of serious moving violations into high dollar parking violations, but they solve problems associated with some land contract issues.

THE OLD MUNICIPAL COURT COURT GAME OF WHO IS ON FIRST. Felony drunk driver has Chesterfield City Attorney, Ballwin and Clarkson Valley prosecutor defend her on one case and the Ladue Judge and Frontenac prosecutor defend her on two other cases. This is what is wrong with the St. Louis County Municipal Courts.

Yevgeniya Radinskya, 27 of unincorporated West St. Louis County, was arrested for DWI on June 08, 2014 by the Missouri Highway Patrol on I-44 at Geyer Road. The case was filed in the St. Louis County Associate Circuit Court. She was represented by Keith Cheung, a lawyer with Curtis, Heinz, Garrett and O'Keefe law firm. The same firm the U.S. Justice Department ripped apart in a report on the Ferguson municipal court.

Cheung is also the prosecutor for the City of Frontenac and he is the municipal judge in Ladue.

Yevgeniya Radinskya

Radinskya pled guilty on this case on February 25, 2016 and was given a 2-years No-Fine, No-Record, No-Points SIS probation.

Next she was arrested on July 26, 2015 by the Town and Country Police for DWI. Since this was her second DWI the case was filed in the St. Louis County Associate Circuit Court. This time she was represented by Chris Graville, the City Attorney of Chesterfield and the prosecutor in Ballwin and Clarkson Valley.

Then on September 30, 2016 she was arrested fro DWI by the Manchester Police and charged with Felony DWI

This time she was again represented by Keith Chung.

On August 24, 2017 Radinskya pled guilty to both the Mancheser and the Town and Country DWI charges. She was not sentenced. There is no record curently. She was entered into a Special Offenders Program.

Her next court date on these two cases will be on August 24, 2020 for sentencing.

However there is a probation violation hearing on October 6, 2017. That is on the SIS probation issued on the Highway Patrol arrest.

It will be interesting to see if her probation is actually revoked. I'm betting it will not be.

All of these cases were filed in the Circuit Court. The Municipal connection is that Cheung is a municipal prosecutor and judge and Garville is a City Attorney and prosecutor. They are supposed to be looking out for our safety and keeping chronic drunk drivers off the street. Instead they are defending them and keeping them on the street by getting a judge to send them to a special diversion program.

Steve Garrett, a named partner at Curtis, Heinz, Garrett and O'Keefe told me that the Missouri Bar Association claims being a judge or prosecutor in one town and a defense attorney in the neighboring town is legally ethical. I pointed out to him that lawyer might think it is legally ethical but most of the public thinks it is morally unethical. But of course the public and moral ethics are almost completely forgotten in local politics and courts.

DRUNK 30-YEAR-OLD SON ASSAULTS PARENTS AND THEN TRIED TO FLEE BEFORE POLICE ARRIVED. HE DIDN'T MAKE IT. On March 18, 2016 at about 12:22 AM the new day started out with a two-officer call of an assault in progress. Of course these types of calls normally mean at least one officer will be looking forward to two or three hours of paper work.

This is from Town and Country Officer Fowle's report:

On 03/18/2016 at 0022 hours, West County Dispatch Center advised of a disturbance in progress at 2 [REDACTED] Mueller Lane. The dispatcher advised a female resident called 911 to report that her son had just assaulted her and her husband. The caller said that her son had choked her and was in the process of assaulting her husband.

Before Officer Fowle could arrive at the house at 2206 Mueller Lane he observed a 2000 Toyota 4-Runner speeding away from the area of the house. He stopped the 4-Runner on Kopp Lane and Des Peres Road. This is also from his report:

The driver of the vehicle was identified by his expired Missouri driver's license as Amar K. Vakamudi (W-M 10/10/1985. Vakamudi immediately admitted to being involved in some type of disturbance at his parent's house. I ran a police computer check of Vakamudi's driver's license. The WCDC dispatcher confirmed that Vakamudi was the suspect from the disturbance called in from the resident at 2206 Mueller Lane and also that his operators license was suspended. Vakamudi admitted to getting into a disagreement with his parents at their residence on Mueller Lane.

Vakamudi also appeared to be drunk. He had the strong odor of booze on his breath, his speech was confused and he mumbled, his eyes were watery and glassy and his balance was unsure. He failed a couple of field sobriety tests and then refused to do anymore.

One of the tests he failed was to recite the alphabet starting with the letter "J" and ending with "W." This is what Vakamudi said, from the police report:

ALPHABET TEST J-W: SAID JKJKJLMNOSPQRSTUVWXYZ & Z.

Amar Vakamudi

2206 Mueller Lane

At the time of his arrest a search of the car found a glass smoking pipe with marijuana residue in it.

Once at the police station Vakamudi in an interview stated he had "one beer." He then refused to take a breath test.

He was held overnight until he sobered up from his "one beer" and then released on citations for DWI, Driving While Suspended and Possession of Narcotic Paraphernalia.

Vakamudi apparently had one prior DWI incident as his license was suspended in 2011 and it was mention in the Town and Country Police report.

OUTCOME: The charges were filed in Town and Country municipal court, but Vakamudi's lawyer moved the case to the Associate Circuit Court in Clayton where it was placed on the docket of Judge Mary Ott, Vakamudi pled guilty to all charges on January 26, 2017. He was sentenced to 90 days in jail on the DWI, but then placed on a 2-year SES probation, meaning the conviction will stay on his court record and driving record. He pled guilty to Driving While Suspended and was fined $225. Possession of the Narcotic Paraphernalia was amended to "Littering" and he was fined $250.

Since his guilty plea Vakamudi was arrested by Des Peres PS officers for 2-felony counts of Manufacturing or Distributing or Delivering Controlled, Either mom and dad are kicking in for his defense of he has been successful as a drug dealer as he hired Scott Rosenblum as his defense attorney.

IT'S NOT A PARK, BUT SPECIAL TOWN SQUARE MEETING HAS PARKS

DIRECTOR TALKING ABOUT MAKING IT INTO A PARK: The Workshop meeting before the regular Board of Aldermen meeting was scheuduled to start at 5:30. Of course that is regular human time and not Mayor Jon Dalton time. It started seven minutes late. Nobody seems to care. Unless there is a crash on the highway or bad weather Chesterfield meetings start right on time. That is not even a rarity in Town and Country. It just doesn't happen if Dalton is running things.

Illegal meeting: Per Missouri law meetings involving a qourum of an elected body, even if it is going to be a work session are suppose to be posted 24 hours in advance on regular working days. I checked on the T&C Work Session meeting on Saturday September 23. The city website lsited the meeting as being at 6:30PM on 9/25/17.

On September 25, 2007 at 12:30 PM the new time for the meeting of 5:30 went out to the public. Instead of 24 hours prior to the meeting, the time was posted 5 hours prior to the meeting. Mayor Jon Dalton ignoring State Law is nothing new.

Interesting speaker giving the presentation ON IT'S NOT A PARK: For over two years of planning the constant theme was how the Town Square was not a park. So who is giving the presentation? It's the Parks Director Anne Nixon. She is making statements and putting up power point presentations that clearly had the theme of turning this land into a park.

The Vacant Lot since the Werth Family service station was torn down over a decade ago and owned by Town and Country for three years.

Anne Nixon begins her presentation as the two city leaders, Mayor Jon Dalton (center) and City Administrator Gary Hoelzer immediately start ignoring her and spending about five minutes each on their I-phones.

“How do we get people to participate in the Town Square,” asked Nixon beginning her talk.

“It’s ‘Play, stay and watch other people play, sociability, plus uses and activities,’” proclaimed Nixon.

Ald. Tiffany Frautschi she spoke up and said, “The one thing I see in our town square that is missing is a place for kids. I don’t see the fall festival moving there (from nearby Longview Park) because there is no place for the kids to play.

Nixon: Larger events we would shuttle people there. Right now it is six (large events planned for the Town Square).

Ald. Lynn Wright: We expanded things at Longview and at Drace. We can do that here too. (I’m sure that is exactly what people living in the two adjoining subdivisions don’t want to hear. Sometime or most times Lynn Wright doesn’t get it!)

Anne started her power point off with photos of slides, enclosures for games and swings for adults. Below is the second set of images she showed.

Ald, Fred Meyland-Smith then spoke up. Fred is a constant windbag who often attacks people like Alderwomen Frautschi and Bulter for meeting with their constituents like he did two weeks ago and says in 5-minutes what most people can say in 30-seconds. But on this night he made sense and had a valid point.

Fred Meyland-Smith

Fred: Could we dial his back. I thought this meeting was about negotiations with the developer. A lot of photos you showed were of playgrounds. I thought this was not going to be a playground or a park.

Dalton: You are right. We have that (playgrounds) across the street in the park (Longview Park about ½ mile west on Clayton Road).

Fred: Is it a certainty it is not going to be a playground?

Dalton: I certainly hope so. I thought that ship has sailed.

Ald. Jon Benigas: I'd like to see one event a week during the summer. (Benigas is forgetting that Town and Country is full of rich people who are normally out of town for prolonged periods in the summer.)

Benigas: How many spaces (parking spaces) is an event? Is it 50?

Fred: An event would be a one or two day event that utilized on site parking. It would not be Christmas Tree sales, Fall Festival with pumpkin sales.

Mike Convy (Special consultant to City on project): Special events should be no more than once a month.

In two more months it will be three years that the city owned the vacant lot. It is still a vacant lot, with a price tag moving from $3.8-million to near $7,000,000 for completion.

NEW TEMP FINANCE DEPARTMENT IN ATTENDANCE: Town and Country's accounts clerk, Marian Oesterle, was at at the September 25th Board of Aldermen meeting in the place of Betty Cotner. Oesterle had been the finance director of New Madrid, Missouri.

Marian Oesterle

Mayor Dalton then announced that the city was hiring Ronna Alaniz, former Des Peres Finance Director (1990) and owner of Muni Financial on a hourly basis to help with the 2018 budget. Ms. Alaniz is expected to work 20 hours a week at $90 an hour.

Ronna Alaniz

DALTON REFUSES TO TALK ABOUT POLICE CHIEF OPENING: Ald. Lindsey Butler asked at the end of the Work SSession meeting about the vacant police chief job. She received a non-answer from Dalton. The mayor said that the question of police chief was a personal matter and should be asked in a closed session. He also told Ald. Butler she could ask him in private.

Once again Dalton is refusing to follow the law. Ald. Butler asked about the position of Chief of Police not a specific candidate. Any questions about a candidae would fall under an exception to the Missouri Sunshine Law. Dalton owed them an answer on where he was on hiring a chief. (Which is likely that he has not done crap.)

However talking about the filling of the position in general terms certainly is a public matter and should be address in public, something that Dalton refuses to do.

Many are afraid that Dalton will make City Adminstration Gary Hoelzer both City Adminstrator and Police Chief. This is a move that according to th code book is not allowed. Currently Hoelzer is City Administraor and actingpolice chief.

Frankly a more professional move would be to make Ast. Chief Bob Arthur the Interim Police Chief. Bob is shy some education credits to be made full time police chief. In other words he would not be a competitor for the job. The city administrator should not be doing both jobs ethically and according to the city code. But ethics and following the law have not always been a strong suit of Mayor Dalton.

CHESTERFIELD'S NEW FINANCE DIRECTOR LASTS THREE WEEKS AND QUILTS!

Joan (pronounced Jo-Anne) Jandali who was the Webster Groves Finance Director and Ast. City Manager, left Webster Groves and started at Chesterfield as the city's Finance Director on September 5. She replaced Craig White who resigned to take a job with a San Francisco IT company. She resigned 21 days later.

We were unable to attend the Chesterfield City Council Finance and Administration committee meeting with the whole council present as I was covering the Town and Country Board of Aldermen meeting. So I wrote the F&A Committee chairman Tom DeCampi an email apologizing for missing the meeting and asking if I had missed anything important. Jandali was giving a presentation. Here is Councilman DeCampi's reply:

No problem. We voted to add an assistant finance director, but oddly enough, the new director tendered her resignation on Tuesday!

I don't know the reason for the sudden resignation. Maybe she didn't like working for a boss who kills deer (City Administrator Mike Geisel took off most of the week to go deer hunting with relatives. Mayor Bob Nation wasn't saying anything as he was in Canada on vacation.)

Joan Jandali.

PALLET THEIF FROM COLLINSVILLE GETS 10 DAYS JAIL: Many people are not aware of thefts that occur regularly at retail establishments. They are grease thefts from restaurants and shipping pallet thefts from retail stores. Grease is recycled and sold by the restaurant to companies that come usually in the middle of the night and drain tanks of the grease. The same goes for wooden shipping pallets that are usually stored in the rear of businesses.

In this case Kevin George, 33, of Collinsville, Illinois was caught stealing shipping pallets behind the PetSmart store in the Chesterfield Valley on December 4, 2015 at 12:46 on a Friday afternoon.

Kevin George

Committing a crime in the 12 o'clock hour when a store is open is perhaps not a great idea. A manager of the THF properties, that owns the shopping center, saw the theft and called in a theft in progress.

This is from the police report:

I arrived on scene as Officer Ovca made contact with the male behind the PetSmart. The black truck is described as a black Chevrolet pickup with MSL: [REDACTED]/16 and was loaded with pallets in the bed. Two groups of pallets were tied down, but 17 pallets were not yet tied down and were closer to the back of the truck. The male was identified as Kevin George, and he stated that he loaded the pallets up but was going to ask the manager afterwards. I asked if he had a contract to take pallets, and he stated no. I asked if he had any contracts with any of the numerous businesses in this area and he stated no.

A search of George's pickup truck revealed an open bottle of vodka. George had been drinking but did not appear to be intoxicated.

The pallets are sold back to recyclers for $5 a pallet and George had just taken 17 pallets from PetSmart. The crime, was a theft of $85. But he clearly had been stealing pallets from other businesses also.

There was also an outstanding warrant from a municipal court for George's arrest. He was arrested for Theft and an Open Container in a Vehicle. He was issued citations and released to the other police agency. George then did not show up at Chesterfield Municipal Court and a warrant was issued for his arrest. The warrant was executed on August 15, 2016 when George was arrested in St. Charles.

OUTCOME: On March 21, 2017 George pled guilty to Stealing in Chesterfield Municipal Court, was sentenced to 10 days in jail and was immediately released given time served in jail waiting for court.

CHESTERFIELD MAN ARRESTED FOR DWI BY HIGHWAY PATROL IN OZARK COUNTY: Mark E. Taylor, 53, of Shadow Wood Ct. in Chesterfield was arrested by the Missouri Highway patrol for Speeding Driving While Intoxicated at on Sunday September 24, 2017 at 1:39am. He was taken to the Ozark County Jail in rural south central Missouri.

BALLWIN MAN WITH THREE PRIOR DWIs (TWO IN CHESTERFIELD) PLEDS GUILTY TO FELONY DWI BUT IS PLACED IN SPECIAL PROGRAM, SENTENCING IS DELAYED UNTIL JUNE 2020: Bret Lombardo, 29, of Ballwin had two DWI convictions. One conviction was in May of 2008 after a February 2008 arrest in

Clarkson Valley. The second conviction was on June 5, 2014 after a August 2013 DWI arrest in Chesterfield.

The third and latest DWI arrest was on August 22, 2015 by Officer Charles Thompson of Chesterfield Police at Long Road and Wild Horse Creek Road. Lombardo was drunk when he pulled into line at a sobriety check point. He failed the field sobriety tests and was arrested.

At the police station he refused to take a breath test. A search warrant was obtained to draw blood. The BAC of Lombardo's blood was .123%.

On June 22, 2016 Lombardo pled guilty before Circuit Court Jjudge Michael Burton. Instead of sentencing Lombardo to anything including a Suspended Execution of Sentence, Burton entered him into a special program for drunk drivers who are at least three time losers. So there is nothing currently on Lombardo's record and he is next due in court on June 22, 2020.

Bret Lombardo

The question I always have, is, why isn't the special program after two DWI convictions and have a jail sentence after three? Is the idea to try and keep people safe or give drunk drivers as many chances to injure or kill people as possible?

COUNCIL APPROVES LESS THAN SUGGESTED TO BE GIVEN TO THE LOCAL MUNICIPAL LEAGUE AFTER SETTLEMENT: Keep in mind that many members of the Municipal League of Metro St. Louis (formerly the St. Louis County Municipal League) have filed as opponents against Chesterfield in their lawsuit attempting to overturn the Sales Tax Pool legislation so they don't have to share 50-percent of the general sales tax raised in Chesterfield with other cities.

However at the September 18 City Council meeting there was a resolution to give back 5-percent of the estimated $237,000 the city may receive from a law suit filed by the Municipal League against Ameren UE over unpaid license/tax fees county wide. The recommended amount was approximately $12,000.

“How are we going to be assured that the money would be used just for the litigation fund and not go to a P.R. firm or to lobbyists,” asked Barb McGuinness.

Barry Flachsbart then recommended that they pass a resolution giving $7,500 to the League.

Mayor Bob Nation, who led the vote two years ago to get out of the League and then last year to rejoin it, thought $7,500 was not enough.

“I have a problem with the money being used where it is not supposed to be used,” said Councilman Tom DeCampi.

Councilman Ben Keathley then made the most common sense suggestion of the night and of course it did not go anywhere.

“We should wait until we are sure how much money it is. We can’t start giving money to their lobbyists and not know where it is going.

Senior Councilman Barry Flachsbart ignored Keathley’s remarks. “Team it with others will have a bigger influence,” said Flachsbart, missing Keathley’s point.

COUNCILWOMAN CALLED ON FIRST FOR VOTE AND APPARENTLY DID NOT KNOW HOW HER SIDE WAS GOING TO VOTE. SHE THEN TRIED TO CHANGE VOTE AND WASN'T ALLOWED. There was a motion to give $7,500 back to the Municipal League.

The City Clerk Vickie Hass calls Councilpersons in a different order for every vote. The call order is generated on her computer. On this vote she called on Barb McGuinness first, which surprised McGuinness. "Oh jeez," she exclaimed and then paused and finally voted for the resolution she had just been speaking against. It dawned on McGuinness as the group she is most closely aligned with voted "No" and added the swing man Guy Tilman.

The vote was a 4-4 with McGuinness with the wrong group. Mayor Nation broke the tie.

McGuinness then wanted to revote as she realized she had voted incorrectly, but she started babbling and not making any sense. First she moved for a revote. But then she wanted to make a motion to make the amount of the money back to the Muni League only $5,000. Finally it was decided the motion was just for a Yeah or Nay revote. But it lost with even some people who voted against not willing for a do-over.

It is clear that McGuinness (who is one of watchdogs of the budget and money) needs to take a paper agenda with her write down how she would vote so she is not confused if she is called on first or pass when called to vote.

PARKWAY SCHOOLS WANTS CHESTERFIELD TO SPLIT THE COSTS FOR SCHOOL RESOURCE POLICE OFFICERS. IT IS NOT GOING TO HAPPEN: The Chesterfield Police Department currently supplies four SROs to the two Parkway High Schools and middle schools in Chesterfield. The school district pays for the officers' full salaries and benefits during the 9-month school year and the city picks up the other 25%.

The City also provides four SROs to all the elementary schools in the city including Parkway and Rockwood district schools plus private schools with the city picking 100% of the costs.

Parkway wants the City of Chesterfield to use Prop P funds to reduce the high school and middle school costs of the SROs for Parkway from $294,720 to $196,480.

They have contacted Creve Coeur. According to their media relations rep they plan to make a similar request at a later date with the City of Manchester and St. Louis County.

On Monday September 25 the City Council met as a whole for the Finance and Administration Committee. They voted down the Parkway request 8-0.

Where did the Parkway Schools get the idea that Chesterfield might share the costs of SROs at middle schools and high schools? It might have been Mayor Bob Nation who stated in the Spring of 2017 that the City of Chesterfield did not need the Proposition P Public Safety sales tax money. Of course Nation changed his position on that issue at least three times, from not needing to having to have it to keep police officers' pay from being cut to using it for future purchases such as body cameras in 2019.

Here is the letter from Parkway Schools requesting Chesterfield share the costs for SROs at the middle school and High School level.

September 8, 2017

Mike Geisel, P.E., City Administrator
City of Chesterfield
690 Chesterfield Parkway West
Chesterfield, MO 63017-0760

Dear Mr. Geisel:

Thank you for meeting with us to discuss the funding of SRO programs. As we expressed previously, we feel the SRO programs provide a positive atmosphere for our students, staff and community. SROs are vital to building a strong community and positive relationships between students and police officers. In addition, the SROs provide enhanced safety and security to our campuses and the community.

During our discussion last week, we mentioned the possible use of Prop P funding to help supplement the cost of the SRO program for our schools. We currently are provided four officers from the City of Chesterfield Police Department, and we pay 75% of their salaries and benefits. For this current school year, this is a district expense of $294,720.

We would like to request that the City of Chesterfield thoughtfully consider lowering our cost share of this program to 50%. Parkway's estimated cost would be reduced to $196,480. The lowering of this cost would allow us to allocate some much needed funding to enhance security at schools throughout the district. Some of the items on our wish list include 4E training for new staff and refresher for existing staff and a security system for instant background checks for visitors.

We hope you will consider this as an enhancement to our partnership and our community relationship. We are stronger together.

Sincerely,

Patricia Bedborough
Chief Financial Officer

10 O'CLOCK ON FRIDAY NIGHT DRUNK WOMAN UNDER COURT RESTRAINING ORDER ATTEMPTS TO BREAK IN AND GET TO CHILD AND KILL CHILD'S FATHER: Kimberly Devincentis was under court order to stay away from the resident on Charlemont Drive. The resident has custody of a 3-year-old daughter. Devincentis, is the mother but does not have custody and is under a court order to stay away from the property in Chesterfield. At 10 o'clock at night she was cutting screens and removing them from rear windows of the house.

Brief Narrative Description: 33 yo female was intoxicated and damaged window screens on residence. Subject also resisted arrest and was transported to hospital for mental evaluation.

Subject: RE: arest request

Kimberly Devincentis, age 33, Fenton resident, was issued municipal summons for Trespassing, Destruction of Property and Resisting Arrest on 9/8/2017 at 10:05PM. Occurred 15XX Charlemont.

Devincentis, has been arrested three times prior to September 8th for Domestic Assault on January 13, 2016 and on June 10, 2016. She was arrested again on June 29 for violation of court orders.

Chesterfield Police downgraded charges and filed them in Municipal Court where prosecutor Tim Engelmeyer and Judge Rick Brunk will have the opportunity to reduce all the charges to "Littering", collect some money and do nothing to stop the situation. We obtained the police report from sources outside of the police department. Here is part of a very interesting police report.

On 09/08/2017 at 10:05pm PO Angela Gibbs, DSN 302, in vehicle 5c34 and I received an assignment for a Burglary in Progress. The caller indicated he was awakened by a scratching sound on a rear window of his residence which sounded to him like someone was attempting to pry the window open. While in route to the residence the call notes were updated indicating the unknown person had moved to the front of the house and started kicking on the front door.

As PO Gibbs pulled up to the residence, she observed an unknown white female standing in the middle of the road, screaming incoherently. As I arrived on scene I observed PO Gibbs attempting to talk to the subject, later identified as Kimberly Devinentis, however Devinentis was extremely combative, swinging her arms, pacing in a small circle, and screaming she hadn't done anything wrong. Because of her erratic behavior, I chose to place Devinentis in handcuffs until she calmed down. However after applying the first handcuff on her left wrist, Devinentis started pulling away from both PO Gibbs and myself, twisting her arms in an attempt to get away from us. I was unable to hold both arms still and apply the second cuff, which gave Devinentis the opportunity to break the grasp I had on her left arm. Devinentis pulled her left arm away from us before swinging it back towards us in an attempt to strike us. I was able to quickly regain control of both her arms at which time PO Gibbs was able to apply the second handcuff. With both handcuffs on Devinentis calmed down slightly giving PO Gibbs the opportunity to double lock both cuffs.

As Devinentis was being led back to my patrol vehicle she fell to the ground several times, forcing us to physically lift Devinentis up onto her feet. After picking her up the last time Devinentis attempted to kick me with her left leg. By this time Sgt. Dave Weiss, and PO Terry Cordia had arrived on scene and assisted in getting Devinentis to my patrol vehicle.

With Devinentis detained I made contact with the reporting party, identified as Mark Faupel. While standing on the front porch talking to Faupel I noticed a large exterior screen, with a large cut in the screen, laying on the front bushes with a kitchen knife on top of it. Faupel immediately recognized the knife as one he kept in the back patio area by a small tabletop BBQ pit. When Faupel and I walked out the rear door into the fenced in patio area, we found more screens had been pulled from the windows and had large cuts in them, along with several large planters knocked over and the palms that had been planted in them destroyed. Upon finding the damage Faupel indicated the female we had in custody was the mother of his young daughter, who was not welcome at his residence because of her problems with drugs, alcohol, and mental health issues. Faupel further indicated this was not the first time

Devincentis who was in the rear seat of my patrol vehicle continued insisting she had done nothing wrong, because "Mark" was the one that asked her to come by the house. Devicentis became agitated when I informed her Faupel denied having had any contact with her, and again made the statement that she was going to kill him. She started repeating the same phrase over and over that she was going to kill Mark for doing this to her, and acted like she couldn't hear me when I tried talking to her. Due to her level of intoxication and her irrational behavior since we first made contact with her the decision was made that she needed to be evaluated by a mental health professional. Since Devincentis was already in my patrol car, I conveyed her to Mercy hospital.

Things get even more interesting at the hospital, but since they deal with the suspect's medical condition we are not going to report them.

Devincentis failed to appear at a civil court hearing concerning amending a child custody court order on September 27.

We will try and keep you updated on the story of a woman armed with a knife trying to break into a Chesterfield home and screaming at police officers how she is going to "kill" the resident inside the home.

THE LEADERSHIP AT THE MONARCH FIRE PROTECTIO DISTRICT SHOWS THE OLD UNION BOARD WAS FIRING THE WRONG PEOPLE. If you remember the old Pro-Union board of Directors at the Monarch Fire Protection District fired the entire command staff after losing a lawsuit filed by the union over promotions. After the Pro-Taxpayer group took control of the Fire Board some of those who were fired were hired back.

It included Cary Spiegel and Les Crews as assistant chiefs. This year we learned that Crews, the man fired by the Union Controlled Board and quickly rehired by a new board is one of only 10 command officers nationally who head up FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Administration ) disaster response teams. Crews headed up response teams in Houston after Hurricane Harvey and in Key West Florida after Hurricane Irma.

Cary Spiegel has been running the district as acting chief for well over a year.

The one blemish on the new board was hiring Wayne “Chuck” Marsonette, who seemed like a great hire until three years later when he was charged with 13 counts of theft and fraud from his former employee. Marsonette is suspended with pay until his contract expires at the end of the year or he is convicted of a crime. His next court date is November 9, 2017. He was originally charged in August of 2016.

SCHOOLS OUT: If you drive down Clayton Road during the day past Spodee Road you might notice all the vehicles parked at the old Ladue School District vacant elementary school on the north side of the road and wonder who is using it.

Turns out no one is using it. The Ladue School District is using it as parking lot for construction workers at the Ladue High School on Warson Road about a mile away. The district provides a school bus to take workers back and forth. When you are running a high school in the wealthiest town in Missouri you have to have plenty of parking spaces for rich kids and their cars.

RESTAURANT REVIEW: CLASSIC RED HOTS CATERING: This year we have already done a review of a BBQ operation of 3-days a week in the former repair bays of a gas station in Town and Country and now we are tackling the restaurant operation in the entrance to the Home Depot Store in Chesterfield Valley.

We were alerted to the existence of Classic Red Hots when the owner Steve Cori obtained a business license to open what would be mostly a kitchen for his catering business in the long strip center on Woods Mill and South Outer 40 Road, where Massa's restaurant is located across the street from the MoDOT Traffic Management Center.

Cori had a restaurant on Olive near Woods Mill that he sold, but it is still using the Classic Red Hots' name. Cori added the word Catering. He currently operates only in the Chesterfield Valley Home Depot store. He expects to add the Town and Country kitchen by December. He told me that the catering kitchen would be open three hours a day from 11-2 for regular walk-in customers.

Cori told us he imports all of the main ingredients such as the brats, hot dogs and buns from Chicago. We went out and tried things out. Use the east entrance to Home Depot to find Classic Red Hots Catering.

Longtime Cardinal fans who date back to Sportsman's Park and the first decade at the second Busch Stadium should remember that the Cardinals called Hot Dogs, "Red Hots." Of course the old Cardinal style hot dogs were all grilled, wrapped up in foil and put in a warming drawer. If I got to games early I'd ask for well done grilled dogs. These Hot Dogs did not have any hot spices on them nor do the regular Hot Dogs at the Home Depot.

Mary

We went on a Wednesday. Mary runs the place on Mondays, Wednesday and Thursday. She is rather animated, was quite a talker and was fun.

My wife and I decided to have a brat with grilled onions and a red hot chili dog. We cut each in half so we could try both. All brats are served off the grill but the red hots aren't unless you ask for them to be placed on the grill. I did just that.

I had the feeling that the chili dog was going to be so highly loaded with no bean chili, so I asked for light chili in hopes of picking it up without depositing chili on my shirt. That didn't work. I didn't wear lunch, but I had to eat the chili dog with a knife and fork.

If you are a regular shopper at Costco, perhaps you have tried the $1.50 brat with chips and a soft drink. The brat at Classic Red Hots cost 2 ½ times more at $4. But it tastes four times better.

The chili red hot was also very tasty. It came with cheese and onions. Both were hot.

It's hard to talk too much about one chili dog and one brat. Both were very good. Okay, I did wish that they were both about a dollar cheaper. But they were both good.

I will be back. I don't know if it will be at the Home Depot or at the Classic Red Hots Catering kitchen in Town and Country when they open in December.

If you are having a social function and want to give it a "Chicago" feel these people would be a good choice to cater it. It would be a little off-beat, but fun.

This last Monday (Sept. 25) was no exception. Besides hearing songs by Dean, Frank and Sammy we got two songs by Elmer Fudd and Daffy Duck (you didn't want to be at the first table in front of Dean because of the spray) and the second half of All of Me was sung by Paul Lynde.
