THE TOWN SQUARE FROM ABOVE:

Here are two overhead shots of the Town Square construction, one from Clayton Road and the other from the Kings Glen subdivision to the south.

MORE EXPENSES TO COME AND MONEY TO GO: At the February 26th Town Square Update before the regular Board of Alderman meeting more upcoming expenses were brought up.

Security Cameras: Public Works Director Craig Wilde brought up the fact that four security camera would cost $93,000 to buy and set up. He showed the area the cameras would cover several alderpersons wanted Brinkman Development to cover some of the costs as the cameras would cover much of the parking lot under Brinkman control around the restaurant and commercial building.

Tunnel Changes: Originally Brinkman proposed corrugated metal to be used for the tunnel under Clayton Road to get from the sidewalk on the north side to the Town Square on the south side. It was cited as the cheapest way to go.

Craig Wilde told the alderpersons due to bad ground soil the metal tunnel was out and a concrete one would need to be used. The alderpersons decided that they wanted a 8x8 concrete box tunnel. This will drive the costs up. Then add in a camera and some lighting.

The Pavilion: Fire pits and a fireplace have been eliminated from the pavilion due to fire concerns since the pavilion will be of wood. BBQ grills would be outside. The pavilion would consist of men and women toilets plus picnic tables.

“Every time we are at a meeting we talk about taking items we promised. The Black Smith Shop (the property had been a blacksmith shop) was cut. The splash pads at the pond are gone. We eroded away the family things to do,” said Alderwoman Tiffany Frautschi.

TOWN AND COUNTRY POLICE SERGEANT DEMOTED TO CORPORAL FOR HAVING RELATIONSHIP & SEX WITH SUBORDINATE, SUES CITY, ALL THE ALDERPERSONS, MAYOR AND RETIRED POLICE CHIEF IN FEDERAL COURT.

Former Town and Country Police Sgt. Jeffrey Wolfe on December 28, 2017 filed suit against the entire Town and Country Board of Aldermen, Mayor Jon Dalton and retired Police Chief Pat Kranz in Federal Court. The reason for the suit was that Wolfe, a 26-year veteran of the force and sergeant since 2012 was demoted to corporal in April of 2017.

The reason for the demotion was that Wolfe was having a relationship with female police officer Lauren Becker, who was a subordinate under his command.

In July of 2017 Wolfe appealed his demotion to the Board of Aldermen which is allowed by a city ordinance. In August of 2017 an unanimous vote from the Board of Aldermen upheld the demotion.

Wolfe’s attorney, James Towey, Jr. alleges there is no policy regarding romantic relationships between supervisors and subordinates.

He also claims Town and Country failed to follow its own policy by not advising Wolfe of who the complainant was against him and who the investigating officer of the complaint was at the time of an official interview, per city policy.

The problem: I had to deal with this on a lesser degree when I was an assistant police chief in Maryland. I had two officers on the same shift who were dating. The issue is would one of the officers overreact to a suspect becoming mouthy or aggressive toward their lover. The other problem most don't think about is that if the two break up there could be hostilities on the job including being slow to respond to assistance calls.

In my case I simply had to keep the two officers on different shifts at all times, which probably reduced their dating ability.

The problem with a supervisor dating any officer is that regardless if the supervisor is on a different shift they are still a supervisor and the other is a subordinate.

All this takes me back to the 1970s when the St. Louis County Police Department began hiring its first women patrol officers. A number of them started dating their male field-training officers, often ending in marriage or breaking up an existing marriage.

However, that said, Town and Country does not have a policy prohibiting supervisors dating subordinates. You might think they would be aware of this since Town and Country has one of its top officers because of such a policy.

Katie Exline was a Creve Coeur police officer. She and another Creve Coeur officer got married and they were told one would have to go or be fired. Katie was hired by the Town and Country Police and has been one of the top officers on the department.

Katie Exline

Of course before Exline the lone female officer on the force was Sharon Woolsey, who eventually resigned after being hit on and sexually harassed by her sergeant. This would have been a good time for Town and Country to come up with a policy, but they didn't. The sergeant was forced out and is now selling cars in North County.

Woolsey sued Town and Country and received an out of court settlement, but had to agree not to talk about the lawsuit and the settlement. So much for transparency everyone including Mayor Dalton is talking about.

Sharon Woolsey receiving an award for her action on a crisis intervention case.

A REVIEW OF THE CASE: We received two reviews on this lawsuit. One was from a former police officer who got his law degree and became an assistant Federal prosecutor and the other from a person who has been a police chief for three departments in California and Colorado. They both agreed without a policy against this Town and Country will be hard pressed to win.

To read the lawsuit or the police chief's opinion go to our website and click on the links.

My Position: It has always been, you get paid extra not to date or have sex with the people you are paid to supervise.

The Defense for the City: The defense is being handled by insurance lawyer Jim Foster of McMann and Berger, with offices at Clayton Road and Ballas. .

TOWN AND COUNTRY TRYING TO KEEP CLARKSON VALLEY SAFE...ARRESTS CLARKSON VALLEY RESIDENT THREE TIMES FOR DWI: Robert Holthaus, 33, of 16 Seven Oaks Drive in Clarkson Valley 63005, has been arrested by the Town and Country Police three times for DWI. The last time it was a felony DWI.

Holthaus most recent arrest was on April 29, 2016 after being observed on I-64 in Town and Country and did not stop until he exited in Chesterfield on the North Outer Road. After his DWI arrest he refused to take a breath requiring Officer Josh Hamel to obtain a search warrant and obtain a blood draw.

Holthaus was originally charged in an arrest warrant on 08/02/16 but was not arrested until 01/29/18.

CHESTERFIELD PARKWAY CRASH TURNS FATAL: Adrian Rico-Esquivel, 22, who lives in the Chesterfield Mobile Home Park is now facing Felony DWI-Death of Another charge resulting from the drunk driving accident he was involved in on February 12 at 7:37 pm on Chesterfield Parkway West at Burkhardt Place (behind Chesterfield Mall near County Library).

Rico-Esquivel consented to a blood draw.

Brian Jeffrey Smith, 45, driver of the car hit by Rico-Esquivel was in a coma with a severe brain injury from the time of the accident until he died on February 27. Smith lived with his wife Rachel Green-Smith and their daughter at 6 Braniff Ct. in Chesterfield. Funeral services and burial for Smith were on March 1.

PETER, PETER PUMPKIN STEALER ARRESTED: Peter Wolff was arrested by Chesterfield police detectives on February 8 for passing a bad check in his scheme to steal $79,000 worth of pumpkins from Northern Illinois farmer Larry McGuiness. Wolff set up a “Pumpkin Patch” near where the Rombach Farms had operated and had an annual pumpkin patch for decades before shutting down in 2017.

Wolff had a partner write out a bad check for $27,000 to McGuiness for pumpkins. Wolff then gave the check to McGuiness, who sent another $52,000 worth of pumpkins to McGuiness before the check bounced. The County Prosecutor’s Office has the case, but has not issued any charges yet.

Wolff failed to pay employees and other suppliers. We discovered he has a 30-year record for court judgments for non-payment in connection with companies he ran. He has hundreds of thousands of dollars in judgments for non-payments. He currently has three corporations on file in Missouri operating out of a Fenton mobile home.

CANDIDATE POSES WHILE PR FIRM SHOOTS PHOTOS FOR HIS CAMPAIGN AT CITY COUNCIL MEETING. It appears as if I will be featured in a blog by the stupid lawyer. The stupid lawyer of course is Bill Lawson who came to a Chesterfield City Council meeting and complained how the city gave me a copy of the Doorack Lease that I then posted on my website. He claimed the lease was voted on in a secret closed session. Lawson had no idea by law that once a lease is approved it has to be made public along with all votes and documents (emails) connected with. He was unaware the city had been breaking State Law for seven years. He followed up bad mouthing me by slamming a Sunshine Request down on the city clerk’s table wanting to see all Sunshine Requests I had filed with the city.

Lawson was also upset with my documentation how his buddy City Prosecutor Tim Engelmeyer never prosecuted anyone who hired a lawyer. He simply reduced charges to non-criminal offense such as “No Parking” or “Littering.”
Lawson has filed to run against Tom DeCampi in Ward-4.

A camera crew set up at the February 21, 2018 Chesterfield City Council meeting. There were two photographers and a woman supervising them. During the meeting I noticed that Lawson often was not looking at who was speaking but posing for a camera person.

I also noticed that one photographer was taking photos of me. This included him kneeling down and shooting photos from a few feet away and one where I photographed him taking a photo of me.

Before the meeting was over the woman and the photographers started packing up in the lobby. Lawson had left his seat and was talking to them as if he was giving instructions. I went out and asked who they were with. I could not get a straight answer.

I was told they were taking photos for a blog site, but he could not provide the name of the blog, a web address or provide an email address. He could (would) not tell me who ran the blog. He then asked if I was a “blogger.” That is what Lawson calls me. I corrected him and told him I was a reporter for a News website I own. All this added up to and pointed at Lawson. I then learned of a rumor floating among the council how “a candidate” hired the photo crew.

I have two problems with Harpo's. First it is a regular location and leads the police list for drunken fights, drunk drivers leaving and crashing cars or getting arrested, underage drinkers with fake IDs. There is no other Chesterfield Bar even close to the number of police calls as Harpo's.

My other problem with Harpo's is that other than management, the staff is all young females, who wear very little clothes usually accenting their boob and butts.

That Bobbie Williams, in violation of Section 570.030, RSMo, committed the class E felony of stealing, punishable upon conviction under Sections 558.002 and 558.011, RSMo, in that on or about February 12, 2018 at 8:12 PM, at 17017 North Outer 40 Road, in the County of St. Louis, State of Missouri, the defendant appropriated a pair of athletic shoes, and a pair of pants and a jacket, which property was in the possession of Foot Locker and H&M, respectively, and defendant appropriated such property without the consent of Foot Locker and H&M and with the purpose to deprive Foot Locker and H&M thereof, and the defendant previously has pleaded guilty to or been found guilty of three stealing-related offenses committed on (two) (three) separate occasions where such offenses occurred within ten years of the date of occurrence of the present offense. The offenses are as follows:

1. On or about March 13, 2014, in the Circuit Court of St. Louis County, the defendant pleaded guilty to the offense of stealing, third offense, for events that occurred on February 19, 2013, and
2. On or about July 20, 2010, in the Circuit Court of St. Louis County, the defendant pleaded guilty to the offense of stealing for events that occurred on December 16, 2009, and
3. On or about August 22, 2011, in the Municipal Court of the City of Richmond Heights, the defendant pleaded guilty to the offense of stealing for events that occurred on August 17, 2011, and defendant was represented by an attorney or waived counsel in writing, and
4. On or about January 8, 2010, in the Municipal Court of the City of Brentwood, the defendant pleaded guilty to the offense of stealing (two files) for events that occurred on November 13, 2009 and November 30, 2007, and defendant was represented by an attorney or waived counsel in writing.

COUNT: 02 ASSAULT - 3RD DEGREE - SPECIAL VICTIM - CLASS D FELONY

That Bobbie Williams, in violation of Section 565.054, RSMo, committed the class D felony of assault in the third degree, punishable upon conviction under Sections 558.002 and 558.011, RSMo, in that on or about February 12, 2018 at 8:12 PM, at 17017 North Outer 40 Road, in the County of St. Louis, State of Missouri, the defendant knowingly caused physical injury to Ofc. David Krumm, a law enforcement officer in the performance of his official duties and special victim, by punching him in the face, scratching his left eye, and biting his left arm.
565.054-001Y20171309.0

The undersigned Prosecutor informs the Court on information and belief that the above offense(s) herein charged were committed.

David R. Truman
David R. Truman MBE 44860

I, David Krumm, DSN 0273, Chesterfield Police Department, knowing that false statements on this form are punishable by law, state that the facts contained herein are true. I have probable cause to believe that on February 12, 2018, at 17017 North Outer 40 Road, Bobbie Williams, Black, Female, DOB 05/25/1989, 5'07", 163lbs, committed one or more criminal offense(s).

Count: 01        STEALING - 4TH OFFENSE - CLASS E FELONY

FELONY

The facts supporting this belief are as follows: A Chesterfield police officer, on patrol at Taubmann Prestige Outlets, responded to the area between the Foot Locker store and the H&M store for a report of shoplifting. Defendant was identified as having taken property from the Foot Locker store and was approached by the officer as she exited the H&M store. Informed by the officer that she was going to be detained until an assist officer arrived, defendant attempted to leave. The Chesterfield officer and a mall security officer grabbed defendant's arms, but she continued to try to pull away. Defendant was taken to the ground by the officer, at which point she began throwing punches at the officer, striking him in the face, and scratched his left eye, drawing blood. She also bit the officer twice on the left arm. Defendant was eventually subdued and handcuffed. Subsequent investigation indicated that a pair of shoes from the Foot Locker had been placed inside a shopping bag by defendant, and carried out of the store by defendant, who had not paid for the shoes. At the Chesterfield police station, a search of defendant's person yielded a pair of pants and a jacket, stolen from the H&M store, concealed within her pants.

THE PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE: Back on Monday October 17, a middle aged hippie, wearing shorts on a cold night and refusing to remove his hat was in the first row at the City Council meeting. He was there to see Harvey Rosenberg get handed an award for his garden, by the Citizens Committee for the Environment. The guy refused to stand for the Pledge of Allegiance or removed his hat. I got my camera out just as everyone sat down, but the guy at the end of the row was giving him the stink eye. I went out when he was leaving and asked why he didn't stand for the Pledge. He only had one comment, which was "You are an asshole."

I thought about him while attending the February 21 Chesterfield City Council meeting. Glen Smith was there to see his daughter Judy Smith receive an award from the same group. The Smiths were big on getting the Chesterfield Veterans Memorial built.

Glen Smith, a World War II Navy vet was seated in his wheelchair. Despite being disabled, when Mayor Bob Nation asked everyone to stand for the Pledge of Allegiance, Mr. Smith with the help of others, stood and recited the pledge.

FULL UNIFORM: Smith's daughter, Judy Smith was in full uniform to receive a Green Award at the beginning of the meeting. She is a pastry chef for Dierberg's.

RESIDENTS SPEAK OUT AGAINST DR. DOUG'S REZONING REQUEST: Dr. Doug Pernikoff, a veterinarian who has appeared weekly on the Frank O. Pinion (John Craddock) radio show for years wants to move his Vet clinic to a nearby lot on Clarkson Road and needs rezoning to construct a new building.

Frank O. Pinion (John Craddock)

Dr. Doug Pernikoff known around St. Louis thanks to his weekly radio appearances

Pernikoff is currently located in the Clarkson-Wilson Center on the east side of Clarkson Road.

He wants to build a 1 ½ story building for a new Vet clinic near his current location at 2264 Clarkson Road. But first he has to get the land rezoned from residential to commercial.

The new site would be located on a lot next to the shopping center where his office is currently located.

However that property is zoned R-2 residential. While the shopping center is immediately to the south, a subdivision is to the east on Clarkson Woods Drive.

The rezoning is still in front of the Planning Commission and has not made it to the City Council's agenda. However two people in opposition to the rezoning appeared at the February 21, City Council meeting. Antoinette Hodges of 16572 Meadow Oak Drive and Paul Bostick of 2139 Heather Glen each spoke out against allowing Pernikoff to build a commercial building at their subdivision entrance.

MOTION TO POSTPONE RAISE FOR CITY ADMINISTRATOR: The raise for City Administrator Mike Geisel was postponed on a 4-2 vote. The bill called for Geisel to get a $3,400 raise with an annual salary at $173,400. Michele Ohley and Ben Keathley voted against the continuance. I don't think they were ready to vote for the raise, but against it. Barry Flachsbart was absent and Tom DeCampi was delayed getting to the meeting due to bad weather delaying his flight back from a business trip.

NEW APARTMENT COMPLEX PROPOSAL PASSES ON A 5-2 VOTE. The proposed apartment complex on 12.6 acres of land between Old chesterfield Road and Wild Horse Creek Road (across from the trailer park) passed on a 5-2 vote. Developers want to put in a 170 unit apartment complex.

Both Ward 4 Councilpersons Michelle Ohley and Tom DeCampi voted against the project. While the apartment complex is not in their ward, Ward-4 begins across the street from it on Wild Horse Creek Road.

“It’s the traffic from a 170 unit apartment,” said Ohley why she voted against it. “It is right there at a corner and changes the sight lines,” she added.

“There was push back from Ward-4 residents who were against it for the reduction in green space and the increase in traffic,” said DeCampi.

FOOD: PUB GRUB GOOD AND BAD:

SATCHMO'S BAR & GRILL 13375 Olive Blvd (Olive and Hwy 141) 02/18/18

Satchmo's has a restaurant side and a bar side. The menu is the same. Three weeks in a row, with our trivia team, we ate on the bar side.

Our first night there we were greeted by a small blond and were not sure if we were actually wanted. However after getting seated our waitress, who was from Russia and a graduate at Maryville University, was a delight. (She works full time at Maryville and part time as a waitress.) Our waiter and waitress the next two visits were very good also.

Our first waitress said we would not go wrong with a burger, but added that “The Brick” a sliced roast beef sandwich on toast was her favorite. I got The Brick ($10.95) and her recommendation was excellent. The meat was tender and flavorful. The bread was toasted perfectly. You might think they were skimping on the meat by putting it on toast. But they were not. It didn’t look that great, but it tasted great and filled me up.

Three other diners gave thumbs up to the burgers.

The burgers varied from the Tavern Burger ($10.95) with a choice of seven different cheeses to the Smokehouse Burger ($12.95 with cheddar cheese, BBQ sauce and a couple of hand dipped onion rings on the burger) to the Southwest Burger ($12.95), the Farmhouse Burger ($12.95 with a fried egg) and a Bayou Burger.

It is odd that they will have hand dipped o-rings for the top of a burger, but will not sell a side of onion rings.

The fries were okay, but looked better than they were. I liked the creamy cole slaw.

On another visit we tried a house pizza. (two toppings $9.95, three topping $10.95) My wife tried a steak fajitas special. They were both okay, but we both commented that our next time back it would be either a burger or the beef on toast. It turned out the next time back we split a “Brick.”

The dinner menu looks good with the highest price item was the prime rib at $21.95. A number of items on the menu give the impression someone with the restaurant is from New Orleans. Besides having Louis Armstrong’s nickname on the building a number of items on the menu had a Cajun flair. (N’Awlins Jambalaya, Shrimp and Grits, Gumbo and Fried Green Tomatoes)

THE FOX AND HOUND: 6300 Clayton Road Richmond Heights. Inside the Cheshire Inn Hotel. February 17, 2018

The Cheshire Inn is the first building inside St. Louis County or the last building in St. Louis County before you enter the City of St. Louis depending if you are going west or east.

The Fox and Hound itself is TINY. The Saturday night we went we were lured in because Dave Venn on piano and Jim Manley on trumpet were playing. At 7:30 we got the last two seats at a table by the door. We were promptly ignored by the lone waitress on duty who never even acknowledged our existence for 30-minutes. We then moved to a high back chair and a corner of the sofa as another couple left, only to have eight more come in.

Things got better when Dan arrived on duty. He was our waiter and was very good.

Honestly, when I was a 25-year-old police detective back in 1977 and 78 I used to go to the Fox and Hound. It was different than any other place you might find in St. Louis. Bill, a blind pianist played five nights a week.

40 years later including after the hotel was closed for a year for a complete makeover, it was amazing. Nothing had changed. I mean nothing The makeover completely missed the Fox and Hound! Okay, maybe the bar stools got replaced. The piano was in the same spot. The two booths with chess boards were still there. The stuffed chairs appeared to be the same, as did the sofas and small tables. It was as Mr. Peabody and Sherman had put me in the Wayback Machine and set the dial for 1977.

However, I have to admit that I don't remember it being so crowded and SO LOUD.

Before getting food my wife ordered a Manhattan Up (rye). Two days earlier she had one at Annie Gunn's that she considered one of the best she ever had. We asked the bartender on the way out of Annie Gunn's what her secret was and she said my wife had ordered her favorite drink. Her Manhattan at the Fox and Hound reportedly did not come close.

I ordered a Coke. It was the worst "Bar" Coke I have ever had and I have had some bad ones. It was both flat and tasteless.

As we waited to order food, we were amazed how difficult it was to hear two very well known St. Louis musicians. The acoustics were that bad.

The menu was short. My wife went with the Cheshire Burger that came with Cheddar Cheese and “Medart” sauce. For relocated newer St. Louisians, Bill Medart opened what is now known as the Cheshire Inn on Clayton Road at Skinker in 1930. It was Medart’s from 1930 until 1938 when it was renamed the “Old Cheshire Inn”. It was sold in 1960 nine years after Bill Medart committed suicide in Paris in 1951.

Medart’s widow, Blossom Breneman (stage name), a former silent era movie star, sold the restaurant to the Apted family (owners of Miss Hulling’s Cafeterias) nine years after Bill Medart’s death.

So my wife ordered a side salad. I asked our waiter, Dan what he would recommend, the Fish and Chips or the Pork sandwich. He was very clear that I should order the Fish and Chips. He asked what I wanted and for a second I thought I was in England and said “the chips” before I realized I was in Richmond Heights, MO and told him I was speaking “Londonize” and I meant the fries. That was a mistake.

My wife’s cheeseburger was average at best. The highlight of the order was the side salad.

We split the burger and the fish (2-pieces of fish).

The burger was really lacking. However, I liked the fish. But my choice of French fries was a mistake. I'm a fat guy and half of the fries were still on the plate when the table was cleared.

I have to admit that it was fun to see the old place where I sometimes hung out in the 70s, but I'm not in any hurry to return. It is part of St. Louis and you should check it out on the way home from the Muni or the Fox, but avoid the food, the bar Coke.

CLASSIC RED HOTS CATERING TOWN AND COUNTRY LOCATION: We did a review of Classic Red Hots Catering located in the Home Depot store in Chesterfield Valley. A month ago we went to the new location in Town and Country at 14342 South Outer Forty Road, across the street from the MoDOT Traffic Management Center and a couple of doors down from Massa's restaurant.

It's easy to miss. Owner Steve Cori has not put up a sign. There was some signs in the window for products, like brand name hot dogs and brats. There is also an "open" sign that sometimes he forgets to turn off.

While the Home Depot location is open 5 ½ hours a day and 6 ½ on the weekend, the Town and County location is only open 3 hours day from 11am to 2pm. Cori needed a place with a bigger kitchen for catering deals, but his lease requires he be open. He confessed that he would prefer 11-to-1 as business dies off after 1pm. Of course with no sign or advertising, the fact that he has regular customers filling the tables is pretty remarkable.

The food is the same at at Home Depot. The difference is there are tables and plenty of places to sit.

There is much more counter space and a whole rear kitchen area and restrooms.

My Chili Brat was just as good as the one I had at the Home Depot. It was just as pricey at $5. I was having breakfast/lunch by ordering the Chili Cheese brat and still left one bite that my dinner companion finished off.

REAL ESTATE: It more expensive across the street on Upper Ladue. Back in Newsletter 177 on May 10, 2015 we featured the house for sale at 21 Upper Ladue, in Ladue that was priced at $3,300,000.

But across the street at 26 Upper Ladue the 5-bedroom, 6-full bath house is listed at at $4,950,000. The pad has 10,094 square feet and is on 3.56 acres.

Sure the master bedroom closet space is nice but is it shared or is it just the wife's? The impressive thing was the swimming pool. You got plenty of exercise just walking to and from the pool without ever getting wet.

The house is owned by Dr. Daniel Riew, an orthopedic surgeon who specializes in spines.

Dr. Riew left St. Louis with two other orthopedic surgeons to work at the New York-Presbyterian Hospital. Riew and his wife Mary were married in New York in 1992. They have three children. We say good luck to them finding a 10,000 square foot house in New York (Long Island or Connecticut) for a mere $4,950,000.

FRED MEYLAND-SMITH REAL HOUSES: If you recall recently Town and Country stuff-shirt pompous alderman Fred Meyland-Smith made a comment about a resident who wanted to build a 1,055 square foot “pool house” with a full kitchen, study, living room and more as being ½ of a small house. We were taken back that Meyland-Smith was unaware of lots of people grew up in houses less than 1,000 sq feet. We then ran photos of nine family houses between 1,000 and 600 feet in the central county. Here are some more. The variance for the 1055 “pool house” was continued on 2/26/18 to March 12, Board of Aldermen meeting.
