

EX ALDERMAN NEWSLETTER 332 AND CHESTERFIELD UNAPPROVED 277

June 3, 2018

DOUBLE NEWSLETTER: Due to little government activity other than the Tuesday Town and Country Board of Aldermen meeting thanks to the just finished holiday weekend, we decided to combine this week's newsletter with an all new Drunks and Thieves newsletter that contains articles about cases the Town and Country and Chesterfield police have filed in municipal and state courts.

TOWN AND COUNTRY BOARD OF ALDERMEN STRING RESIDENTS ALONG AND CONTINUE THE EVIL REHNQUIST DEVELOPMENT VOTE: On Tuesday night the Aldermanic chambers were three-quarters filled, all with residents opposing the request by Rob Rehnquist to change the woodland zoning on the property at 19191 S. Mason Road where he would like to build more than double the houses currently allowed.

To build the houses Rehnquist would have to clear cut trees protected under current zoning.

Residents in opposition to the rezoning and outraged at what recent Rehnquist projects have done to existing neighboring property showed up to City Hall again.

Residents showed up on March 21 for a public hearing before Planning and Zoning on Rehnquist's rezoning request. 17 spoke in opposition to the rezoning, including Alderwoman Lindsey Butler.

Large numbers of residents showed up at the Planning and Zoning meeting and 13 spoke in opposition on April 18, where the rezoning request was turned down on a 6-to-0 vote.

Then Rehnquist had the rezoning request placed on the aldermanic agenda with a first reading at the Monday May 14th meeting. The residents were told that the matter would be voted on at May 29 Board of Alderman meeting. But they were lied to by Mayor Dalton and that did not happen.

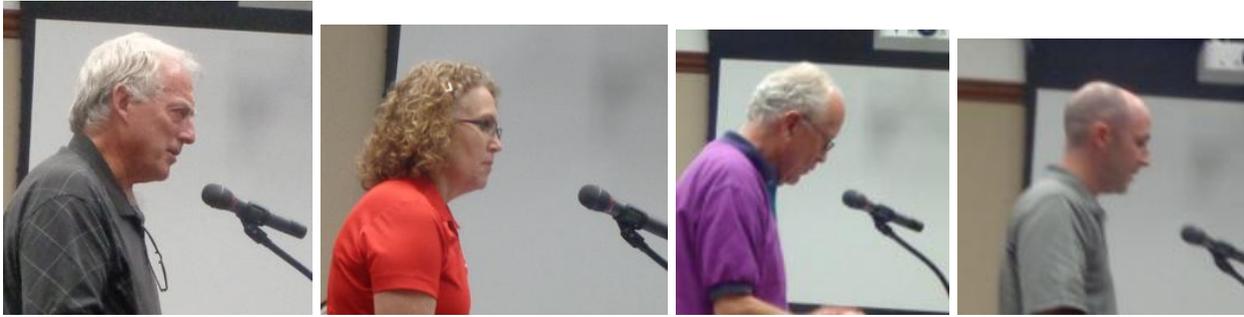

At the Agenda Review meeting prior to the actual Aldermanic meeting Skip Mange who sponsored the rezoning bill to get it on the regular agenda announced he was going to ask for a continuance for legal reasons. THIS BEGGED THE QUESTION, WHAT LEGAL REASON? No one would say.

Mange at the agenda review meeting after saying he would ask for a continuance on the Rehnquist rezoning,

These residents spoke in opposition to the rezoning and in opposition to Rob Rehnquist after all the damage he has caused. Other people sent letters in opposition. The mayor would not have them read into the record just attached to it. He said they were important. What happened to "actions speak louder than words?"

Here are some of the comments from residents on the rezoning request.

“There are numerous reasons to fail Mr. Rehnquist’s request. Your constituents overwhelming oppose it. The commissions (Planning and Zoning) got this right. We expect you to do the same thing.”

“There is zero support for this guy. We are waiting for all of you to do the right thing.”

“I was shocked there is a long line of elderly people and widows who come up and show the damage Rehnquist has done to their property. To hear him deny any public responsibility is shocking.”

STORM WATER DAMAGE FROM NEW REHNQUIST PROJECTS:

“I was thrilled Planning and Zoning rejected Mr. Rehnquist. I think it is a shame he doesn't to abide by the rules.”

“He has done damage to neighbors' property. Mr. 7-year-old granddaughter asked, 'Who speaks for the trees.'”

“It is appalling that past Rehnquist developments have done damage to others' property. Three strikes and you are out. Mr. Rehnquist should be out in Town and Country.”

“Where are the city priorities with development concerning existing adjoining properties? We are not being provided the best oversight by the city.”

Two engineers spoke and said that tree removal for a seven home subdivision instead of the three homes allowed, would cause storm water damage to adjoining neighbors.

None of this apparently has any impact on the evil Rob Rehnquist.

BULLSHIT ALERT: When the motion to continue the meeting was made in the open meeting residents put up their hands and wanted to know why it was being continued.

Mayor/Cigarette Lobbyist/Stealer of a Widow's Property Through Eminent Domain for a Nightclub District that Never Got Built Jon Dalton told them he would talk to them AFTER the meeting. Some people told us later that they were told the circuit court judges were influenced by lobbyists and other people and rule in favor of developers, meaning the city would lose any lawsuit filed by Rehnquist.

Of course this is utter CRAP! It is clear that the majority of the alderpersons are waffling on protecting the code and city zoning.

ONE ALDERPERSON STANDS FIRM: When Dalton called for a voice vote on the continuance, one person voted NO. It was Ward-2 Alderwoman Lindsey Butler.

Butler thought the proposal should have been voted on and if Rehnquist came up with a modified proposal he could submit it or sue the city over his current proposal. Butler took the position that the code and zoning laws need to be protected and supported. Nobody else seemed to be willing to back the Planning and Zoning Commission or the codes. We think there will be an amendment with a new design for the Board of Aldermen to consider, avoiding the Planning and Zoning Commission.

ALDERWOMAN SUE ALLEN CLEARLY NOT INDEPENDENT: It has been rather clear for a while that former State Rep. Sue Allen who ran unopposed to replace Linda Rallo on the Board of Aldermen is tied pretty closed to Jon Dalton, a long time Jefferson City lobbyist.

Allen has said she would like to be a healthcare lobbyist in Jefferson City. She has ties to Ward-1 Alderwoman and longtime Daltonite, Lynn Wright. Wednesday a resident reported Allen having breakfast with Dalton at Schneithorst's in Ladue. This pretty much leaves just new alderman Matt Rueter (Ward 3) and Butler along with Tiffany Frautschi was the only independent voices on the Board of Aldermen.

DALTON ANNOUNCES NEW TASK FORCE BUT DOESN'T KNOW WHO OR HOW MANY WILL BE ON IT: While Town and Country has a talented staff that can review proposed projects and make recommendations, Mayor Jon Dalton hates to use them for that. None of them vote in Town and Country elections. Dalton always wants to appoint Task Forces which creates good will toward him with the people he appoints. Of course if slows down the process and creates more work for the staff so be it, Dalton is looking for votes and not efficient government.

At the Tuesday May 29 Board of Aldermen meeting he announced he was creating a task force for the Topping Road street improvement and "Trail" (really a sidewalk, but called a trail as "Park Grant" money was obtained). This will go from Clayton Road to Kent Manor Drive, leaving over half of Topping Road without a sidewalk, but that hopefully will come in a future grant. He named Lynn Wright the chair of the Task Force of an unknown size.

A board member asked how large the Task Force would be and Dalton said HE DIDN'T KNOW! The more voters that want to feel important, the better, I suppose.

UNAPPROVED CHESTERFIELD NEWSLETTER 277

CHESTERFIELD MALL SOLD! We hear that Chesterfield Mall has been sold to The Hull Group of Augusta, Georgia. The paper work was reportedly signed after Memorial Day.

The Hull Group owns 30 malls in 13 states. The company currently lists seven malls slated for redevelopment. The malls with planned redevelopment include ones in Alton, IL, Columbi, TN, Reading, PA, Kingston, NY, St. Augustine, FL, Racine, WI, and Wilson, NC.

We were told there is a 50-day escape clause in the contract. The city staff has heard the same thing, but has not seen any signed documents.

225 HOME SUBDIVISION MAY BE COMING TO WARD-4 CHESTERFIELD: We also have information of a new 223 home subdivision planned for Western Chesterfield on the Feinup Farms Property, a 450-acre piece of land on the north side of Wildhorse Creek Road about a mile west of Baxter, with 223 acres designated for new homes ranging in price from $600,000 to over $2,000,000.

We hear the project will involve several builders with McBride and Sons being the primary one.

Here is the website for the project:

CHESTERFIELD MAN IN INJURY DRUNK DRIVING ACCIDENT IN WILDWOOD SENTENCE TO NO-RECORD PROBATION: On January 17, 2015 Vernon Wind, 47, of 18025 Homestead Manor Chesterfield, was drunk, drove off of the road on Highway 109 in Wildwood, crashed into trees causing injuries to his female passenger (broken bones) and his male passenger. Wind's Blood Alcohol Content was .22%. We wrote about this when Wind was first charged on April 29, 2015 with two counts of Assault 2nd

Degree (DWI Resulting in injuries). We originally wrote up the arrest in our August 20, 2017 newsletter.

Vernon Wind

This is from the charging document:

The facts supporting this belief are as follows: The Defendant was operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. He caused a crash that resulted in injuries to his passengers. Jenna Fleming suffered bone fractures. Jordan Peterson (McConkey) suffered contusions. The Defendant's blood results showed a blood-alcohol content of 0.223 at or near the time of driving.

OUTCOME: On 03/08/18 Wind pled guilty before County Assoc. Circuit Judge Joseph Walsh. Walsh sentenced Wind to a 5-year No-Fine, No-Points SIS probation. This is just another case of a drunk driver walking out of court with no points on his driving record, despite being almost 3-times over the legal limit and injuring two people.

Wind had a prior DWI reduced in C&I in Boone County. He had three charges in Ballwin (where Chesterfield city attorney Chris Graville is prosecutor) reduced to Littering and three charges in Wildwood (where Chesterfield Judge Rick Brunk is also the judge) reduced to Littering. He was convicted of Boating While Intoxicated in Camden County, was sentenced to six months in jail, but then placed on probation. This guy clearly did not deserve probation in an Injury DWI case.

SUBJECT WANTED BY THE FRONTENAC POLICE FOR DOMESTIC ASSAULT WHILE DRUNK, CRASHES HIS CAR ON I-64 IN TOWN AND COUNTRY: It was Sunday night February 21, 2016 at 11:24pm; Town and Country Officer Yaakub was dispatched to an one-car auto crash on WB I-64 just west of I-270 with a car into a median wall inside a construction zone.

As Officer Yaakub arrived on the scene he observed several people walking toward him. Two were identified as witnesses who stopped to render aid, called the police and saw the driver of the crashed black Honda Accord behind the wheel with the engine running. The other person had his hands up and was staggering and stumbling as he walked toward Officer Yaakub.

He was identified as the driver of the Honda, Kurt Kahle, 34 of 829 Gardenway Drive in Ballwin. Just before the crash in Town and Country police in Frontenac, MO were called to a domestic assault scene where Kahle was the suspect and had just fled the scene.

Kahle at first admitted driving the Honda and adding that he had too much to drink. He then denied it, however Officer Yaakub already had his statement recorded on audio and in-car video.

Here is a section from Officer Yaakub's police report describing what he was dealing with when he first arrived on the scene:

walking towards me with both hands in the air. The 2 other subjects were from the witness vehicle. I observed Kahle staggering as he was walking towards me. I asked what happened and Kahle replied, "I had too much to drink." I asked Kahle if he was driving the vehicle and he replied, "Yes." I again asked him what happened and he replied with the same response, "I had too much to drink." I asked him for his drivers license and insurance information and he asked for his attorney. I asked him where he was coming from and he replied, "I will let my lawyer tell you that." I again asked for his drivers license and he handed me his Missouri drivers license and his credit card. I asked him if he consumed any alcohol since the crash and he replied, "No. I wasn't drinking before this." Kahle began to say that he was not driving the vehicle. I advised him that he told me he had the crash because he had too much to drink and he replied that he didn't. I advised him that I had his comment on video and he replied, "Oh ok." I asked him who was driving the vehicle and he replied, "I have no idea." The keys

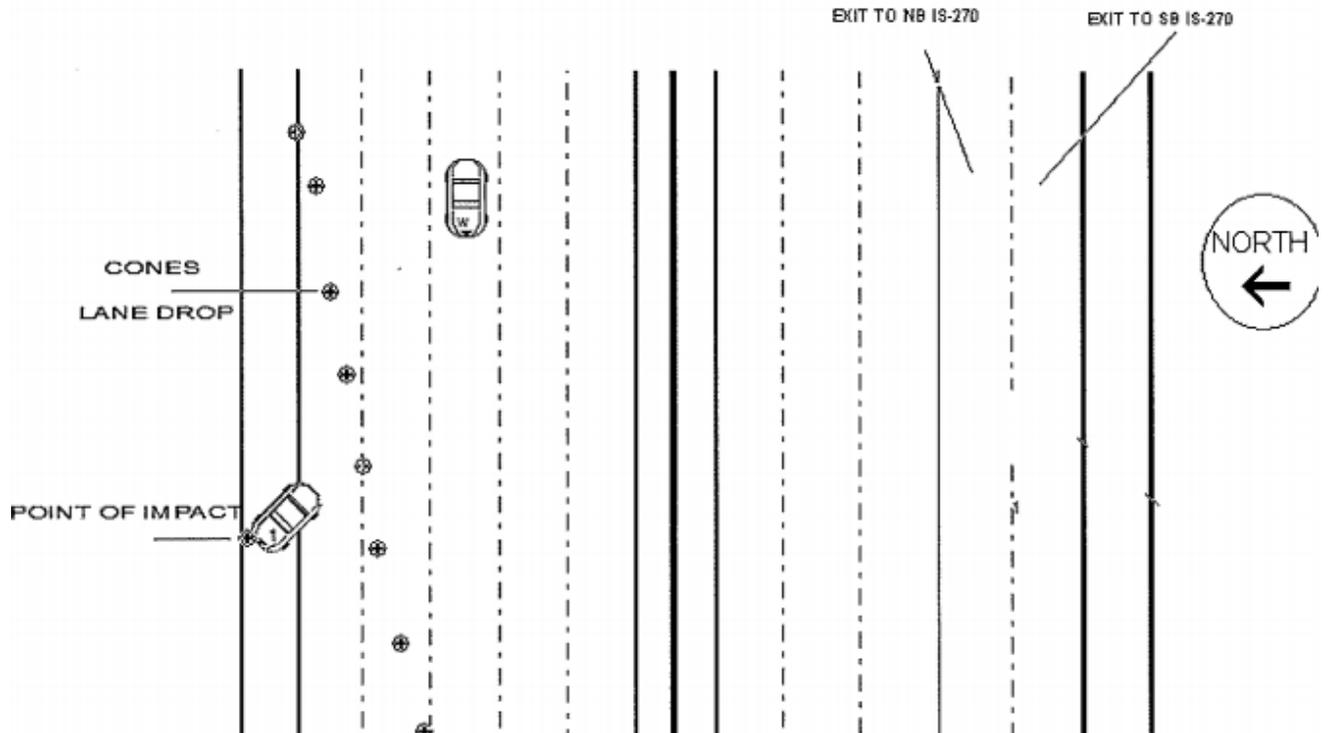

Kurt Kahle

Once at the police station Kahle said he would not answer any questions or take a breath test. He was unable to reach his lawyer, but did call his mother. Meanwhile Officer Yaakub determined that Kahle had three prior DWI arrests (one later amended to Careless and Impudent Driving by the Ballwin city prosecutor, Chesterfield City Attorney Chris Graville). This made the current arrest a felony.

Since Kahle refused to take a breath test Officer Yaakub began preparing the paper work to get a search warrant for a blood draw.

During this time Kahle's mother Anne Kahle arrived at the police station and told her son to take the breath test. He did and the results showed his BAC level to be .211% BAC.

After completing the paper work Kahle was later released to the Frontenac Police in connection with the Domestic Violence Assault. That charge was apparently later dropped. The car he was driving at the time of the assault and accident was registered to his mother.

829 Gardenway Drive in Ballwin where Kahle was living with his mother and stepfather.

Kahle's background shows numerous lawsuits for breach of contract or failure to pay. His father also has similar lawsuits. .

OUTCOME: Kahle pled guilty to an amended charge from Felony DWI to Misdemeanor DWI on 10/05/17. County Prosecutor Bob McCullough is quoted as saying how the Courts need to get tough on DWIs. However in this case Kahle was represented by Tim Devereux. McCullough and Devereux worked together in the 1970s as young lawyers in the office of then County Prosecutor Courtney Goodman. I just don't know why someone with three prior DWI arrests who was just involved in an assault on his girlfriend then is in a one-car crash in a construction zone with closed and narrow lanes should get a break.

17 PAGE POLICE REPORT BOILS DOWN TO LONG TERM GUEST STOLE

VICTIM'S CAR: Anna Raley-Bellanca, 39, had been staying at Jennifer Little's home at 211 Stablestone Drive in Chesterfield for about six months. She had with permission borrowed Little's 2007 silver Mazda station wagon twice before.

On March 21, 2016 at about 1 AM Little noticed that the Mazda was missing. Little also owned a Nissan Armada and a Yamaha motorcycle. 15 hours later at 6:15 PM she called the Chesterfield Police to report the car being stolen by Raley-Bellanca.

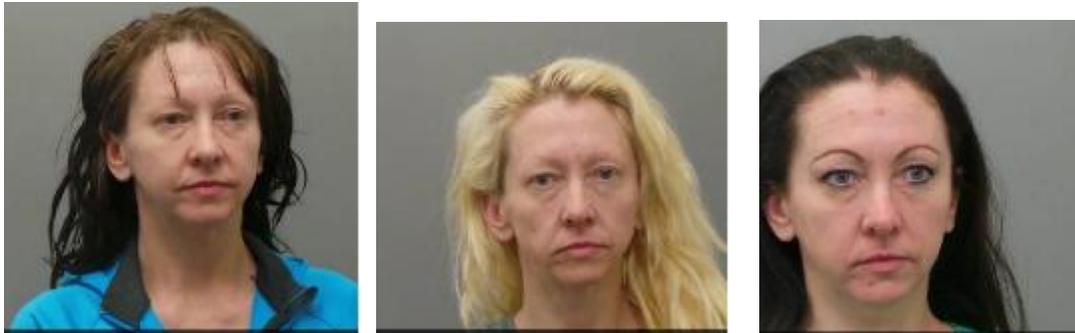

211 Stablestone

Little tried calling the suspect only to have her not answer her cell phone or return calls. Two calls were received by the suspect's cell phone in Seattle.

On Thursday March 31 at 8 AM the Chesterfield Police were notified by the St. Louis Police Department that they had recovered the car at 7513 Michigan Avenue in South St. Louis. Raley-Bellanca was in the passenger seat and her boyfriend as behind the wheel. Raley-Bellanca would later confess to stealing the car and claiming her boyfriend did not know it was stolen.

In an interview with Chesterfield Police Detectives Raley-Bellanca stated while in possession of the car she was at a house in Illinois where drugs are used, but she does not use drugs. She continued that she must have been drugged for up to four days. Chesterfield detectives reported fresh needle marks in both her left and right arms.

She was charged with Stealing a Motor Vehicle. She has a past record of Stealing, Driving While Revoked and Tampering with an Auto.

OUTCOME: In this case the charge was amended to Tampering with a Motor Vehicle 1st-Degree which is still a felony. On 09/22/17 Raley-Bellanca pled guilty and was placed on a SIS No-Record probation for five years.

DRUNK DRIVER DOING 93 MPH GET PROBATION FOR DWI AND IS CONVICTED FOR SPEEDING: On September 21, 2016 at 1:29 AM Scott Marsden, 31, of 928 Golf Course Drive in University City was driving his 2014 Infiniti Q-50 westbound on I-64 from I-270.

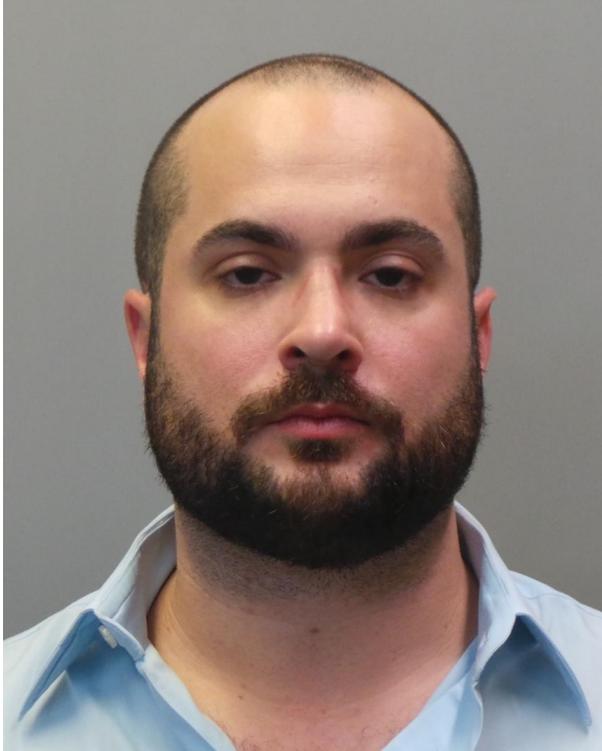

928 Golf Course Drive University City

He happened to be clocked by Town and Country Officer Fowle at 93 MPH in a 50 MPH construction zone with narrow lanes and merging lanes. Officer Fowle attempted to stop Marsden, who by now was also weaving and speeding. At about Mason Road Marsden began to pull to the right and almost collided with a tractor-trailer in the right lane.

Marsden finally stopped at about the Maryville Centre exit. Officer Fowle immediately detected the strong odor of booze on Marsden's breath, that his eyes were bloodshot and glassy and he was mumbling.

Marsden admitted speeding but denied having anything to drink. After denying having anything to drink he promptly refused to do any field sobriety tests or take a field breath test. He was arrested for DWI. Again at the police station he refused to take a breath test.

Scott Marsden

A passenger in the car was given permission to drive the car, but a field breath test showed he was intoxicated.

Marsden was released on summonses to a sober person. In this case it was his wife, Cortney Marsden.

Here are some of Marsden's citations and arrests:

04/09/17	Moving Violations reduced to Illegal Parking $350 fine	St. Louis CO PD
09/21/16	DWI	Town & Country PD

WAS THIS ARREST REALLY NECESSARY? Cameron Danna was arrested for “ Interfering with an Arrest.” But was he and did he have to be arrested. Perhaps it was justified but the police report certainly did not show it.

Chesterfield Officer Borawski was assisting Officer Hrivnak with the DWI arrest on Olive Blvd at Braefield Drive on Wednesday January 25, 2017 at 10:45 PM.

Officer Borawski reported that the driver was being given field sobriety tests. He was then arrested and being placed in Officer Hrivnak’s car at which time a friend of the driver Cameron Danna, 25, of Chesterfield walk up to Officer Borawski and asked if he could ask a question. Officer Borawski reported he told Danna they were in the middle of a traffic stop and to leave the area. (The suspect was already in handcuffs and in the back of a police car.)

This is from the police report:

Danna asked me if he could ask me a question. I advised him we were in the middle of a traffic stop and to leave the area. Danna stated all he wanted to do was help his buddy that we were arresting. I again advised Danna to leave the area while we were arresting the driver.

Danna refused to leave and asked again why he could not help his buddy. He stated all he wanted to do was drive his buddy's vehicle. I again advised Danna if he did not leave immediately he would be placed under arrest for interfering.

Upon placing the driver into PO Hrivnak's police vehicle Danna began to approach me. PO Hrivnak and I stopped Danna at which time I advised him he was under arrest for the charge of interfering. Danna became belligerent and began yelling that I could not arrest him for helping his buddy.

As a police officer for 3-decades I learned there are times you don't want to make an arrest. Letting someone ask you a question after a suspect is arrested and secured in the back of a squad car does not seem unreasonable to me. Part of a cop's job is to listen whether they want to or not. If after they asked the question and the person did not like my answer and began arguing I would often simply drive off. Why waste my time and the court's time by making a marginal arrest?

OUTCOME: I really have a hard time understanding Chesterfield Prosecutor Tim Engelmeyer. Why he did not decline prosecution on this case after reading the report is beyond me. The only reasonable reason is that he never read the report at all or perhaps not until court night. He amended the charge on 08/15/17 to Littering and Danna was fined $200.50 plus $24.50 in court costs. Frankly it appears as if Engelmeyer and the City of Chesterfield and Officer Bowaski just picked this guy's pocket of $225.

EX-BOYFIEND BREAKS INTO GIRLFRIEND'S MOTHER'S HOUSE AND STEALS CASH AND PRESCRIPTION DRUGS ON THE DAY OF MOTHER'S FUNERAL.

Monday January 16, 2017 at 1PM was the burial scheduled for Geri Fox, who had lived at 1515 Mallard Landing Court in a Chesterfield condo unit. Her daughter Mia Knowles also lived at the house.

It had been wet and her daughter decided to stop at the house to get some boots to wear for the private burial. A male friend of hers was with her and went into the house to get the boots while she waited in the car.

When the friend went into the house he heard someone upstairs. He called out. Then he went upstairs and was met by Samuel “Bryson” Glidewell, 20, currently of Henderson, KY in southwest Missouri. Glidewell used to date Mia until they broke up a year earlier when he was caught stealing prescription drugs at her grandparents’ residence in Florida where they were visiting. Glidewell was found hiding in an upstairs bathroom. The male recognized him as Glidewell from photos he had seen.

Glidewell apologized for being in the house and left by the front door. It turned out that Glidewell used a rock to forcibly enter the house by breaking out a rear window although he would claim otherwise at one point. As they drove to the funeral Mia spotted Glidewell’s car, a dark blue Acura parked a block away and occupied by Glidewell. They drove up to Glidewell, took a photo of him with their cell phone and told him to leave the subdivision.

After the funeral they returned to the condo and Mia discovered $200 cash missing from her desk. A further check revealed that a locked metal box that had contained oxycodone and oxycodone for Mia’s terminally ill mother, had been forced open and the drugs were missing.

Mia told officers that Glidewell had sent her a text on January 15 saying he was coming to her mother’s funeral and she had texted him back that he was not welcome.

She also received an email from him after he was found in the house. This is the email:

"I want you to know that I just knew the garage code and I was having a really bad anxiety like near a panic attack and I thought going in there might calm me down. I don't know what I was thinking and it was a huge mistake. I didn't search for anything I just sat and your room trying to relax. Please forgive and please don't file charges because I really need to be able to join the navy. It's my only way to good life. I promise to never bother you again and not speak to you. Honestly. I need this. The navy. I'm begging please".

It was odd the Glidewell claimed he used the garage door code when there was a rock inside the house and a broken rear window.

Chesterfield Police officers started checking local motel and hotels for Gidewell's Acura after Mia told them Glidewell had said he would be staying at a local hotel for her mother's funeral. They found the car at the Hampton Inn Hotel on Swingley Ridge Dr. He was in his room and was contacted by two Chesterfield officers. He agreed to allow them to search they room when they found the money and the stolen drugs.

Glidewell gave a verbal and written confession. He claimed he originally went to the house to break in and just sit on Mia's bed to relieve anxiety problems he had. He stated that once inside the house he realized Mia's late mother would have drugs in the house and then he searched for cash.

Samuel "Bryson" Glidewell

This was not Glidewell's only crime in 2017. He is now claiming a Ballwin address. Here is his record that we could find.

01/16/17	Burglary 2 nd Degree Felony Stealing	Chesterfield PD
02/24/17	Misdemeanor Stealing 09/21/17 Pled Guilty sentenced to 60 days jail	Shrewsbury PD

CHESTERFIELD CASE OUTCOME: On 09/21/17 Gildewell pled guilty to the Chesterfield burglary and stealing. He was sentenced to 5-years in prison, but only was required to serve 60 days shock time and then was placed on a SES 5-year probation term.

ALMOST PASSED THE TESTS UNTIL SHE GOT OUT OF THE CAR. DRUNK DRIVER DOING 79 MPH IN CONSTRUCTION ZONE WHILE WEAVING GETS NO RECORD, NO-POINTS, NO-FINE PROBATION FOR DWI: On Saturday night into Sunday morning July 23, 2017 at 1:19 AM Town and Country Police Officer York clocked a 2000 Green Dodge Neon speeding 79 MPH in the 50 MPH construction zone on WB I-64 between I-270 and Mason Road. After clocking the car, Officer York observed the car swerve from lane to lane.

He was able to stop the car when it exited I-64 at the Maryville Center. Behind the wheel was Lauren Hill, 20, of Edwin Place in Glendale. Officer York smelled the booze on Hill's breath and that her eyes were bloodshot. However, unlike most drunks she did not have any speech problems, no slurred words, no confused speech and no mumbling.

York gave her an alphabet and number reciting tests that she passed. Her first mistake was denying having anything to drink, when York could smell the booze. She claimed she had only been drinking water all day. Then she refused a field breath test. If she had not had anything to drink this would have had her on her way with a speeding citation.

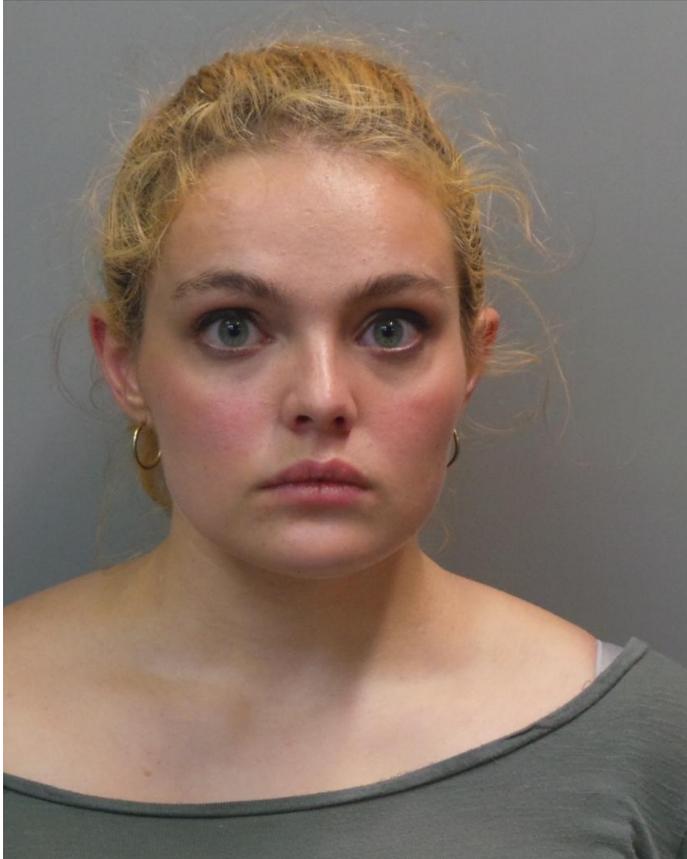

Next Officer York had her step from the car and that was the icing on the cake. She badly staggered and stumbled while trying to walk.

She was arrested and taken to the police station where she again refused to take a breath test.

But the interview was interesting.

When asked where she was she said she didn't know, but she was in St. Louis. Ask where she had been in the last 30 minutes, it was not in St. Louis but at the family house in Glendale. She stated she last ate 30 minutes earlier. It was "a Dorito chip."

Hill was released on citations for Speeding and DWI to her mother.

Lauren Hill

OUTCOME: This case was over in almost record time. Three months after her arrest, Hill pled guilty before Town and Country Municipal Judge Niehoff to the DWI and the Speeding. She was placed on a 2-year No-Fine, No-Points, No-Record SIS probation for the DWI. She was fined $225 for speeding 79 mph in a 50 mph zone. She did have a past record from 11/01/16 when she was cited for speeding by the Highway Patrol in Lincoln County where she was fined $325.

SEVEN MONTHS AFTER CHRISTMAS EVE THEFT SUSPECT ARRESTED AND CHARGED: Apparently it is expensive to look sexy. At about 2:13 on December 24, 2015 the sensor alarm sounded at the Victoria Secret store in the Chesterfield Mall. Store security went to the front of the store and a shopper said a black/female had just run out of the store carrying an armload of clothing.

The Chesterfield Police were called at 5:48 PM, 12 minutes before the Mall was to close. Officer McBride of the Retail Theft Squad responded and wrote a report and captured a photo from the video of the suspect fleeing the store.

Store staff believed $959.20 worth of clothing was stolen.

A Chesterfield Police Detective developed an informant who identified the suspect as a former Soldan High School student, Aneesha Greer. This was confirmed by the staff of Soldan High School.

Aneesha Greer

A wanted was put out for the arrest of Greer, 19 of 2915 Delmar Blvd. It was successful and on June 6, 2016 Greer was arrested by the St. Louis Police Department. An officer from Chesterfield picked her up later that day and she was interviewed by Officer Krumm of the Retail Theft Squad.

Greer confessed saying she stole the clothing for her own use.

The County Prosecutor's Office refused to issue warrants claiming it would be hard to prove the value of the clothing stolen. The theft charge was then issued in the City of Chesterfield Municipal Court.

OUTCOME: Greer who had no apparent prior record pled guilty to Theft Under $750 on 09/28/17 after the case was moved to the St. Louis County Associate Court by her lawyer . She was sentenced by Judge Mary Ott to a two year SIS Probation sentence, with no fine and no record at the end of the probation.

CHESTERFIELD PROSECUTOR ENGELMEYER REDUCES ASSAULTING A POLICE OFFICER TO LITTERING:

On October 24, 2016 at 8:01 pm Chesterfield Officers Carter and Ghassemi were dispatched to 15470 Black Birch Drive for a call of domestic assault. Police were familiar with this house and the reporting party, Raquel Henderson, 46 years-old 5- foot- 2.

Henderson stated that she had removed all television sets from the house and her minor child was upset and she wanted the minor child taken to the hospital for a psychiatric evaluation. Officer Carter took the minor down a hallway and had Officer Ghassemi interview Henderson.

Officer Ghassemi asked Henderson to explain again what had happened to have the police called to the house. She loudly complained she had already told officers three times what had happened. Officer Ghassemi said he just wanted to hear more details about what the minor child did to her.

Henderson then ran with both hands up and lunged at Officer Ghassemi, loudly pushing him against the wall with both hands. This is from the police report:

her. I asked her what that meant and to further explain. At that time I briefly glanced to my left to check on P.O. Carter, I then returned my attention Henderson where I saw her charging me with both hands up, eyes wide, and an angry look on her face. She shoved me backwards, hitting me in the chest with both hands. I fell a short distance and my back struck the wall. As I came off the wall Henderson, still moving towards me, shoved me backwards again into the wall. Using my hands I pushed Henderson away and held onto her left arm. I told Henderson she was under arrest and placed her into handcuffs.

He yelled at her to stop and asked what she was doing. She said she was showing what the minor son did to her. It was then pointed out she was instructed to said what happened and not demonstrate. She was then arrested and placed in handcuffs.

Sgt. Deckard was called to the scene. Meanwhile Officer Ghassemi took Henderson outside and attempted to place her in the police car and she resisted.

Raquel Henderson

Officer Carter interviewed the teenage minor, who Officer Carter described as “respectful” and showed no problems while talking to Officer Carter.

Monarch Fire District paramedics were called to the scene and determined there was no reason to transport the minor son to the hospital.

Meanwhile Henderson now refused to provide a written statement. She was cited in Municipal Court for Assaulting a Law Enforcement Officer.

In February of 2017 Henderson was arrested again this time for Abuse of a Minor. However no charges were issued.

OUTCOME: Henderson hired a lawyer and the case was moved to Associated Circuit Court before Judge Mary Ott. Tim Engelmeyer as the Chesterfield Prosecutor still acted as the prosecutor. On 09/28/17 the charge was reduced from Assault on a LE Officer to “Littering” and Henderson was fined $250.
